There is a new option for all those who love authentic Thai food. The newly opened Neung Roi in Radisson Blu Plaza on NH 8, Mahipalpur, serves authentic Thai food in a comfortable and classy setting. Neung Roi means 100 in Thai and has been named after the 100 degrees east longitude, which runs through Thailand. Much like the imaginary line that runs through the country, Neung Roi celebrates the spirit of cuisines from across the length and breadth of Thailand. It celebrates sum rap Thai or the Thai way of eating.

The menu draws inspiration from the four major culinary regions, Isan, Lanna, south and the central plains. Preparations from all the regions are listed separately and the staff is quick to give you a brief about the intrinsic peculiarities and highlights of each region. You can choose between the spicy flavours from Isan, hot and salty dishes from Lanna, seafood and fresh produce from the south and mild, subtle and balanced cuisine from the central plains of Thailand. The selections on the menu have been specially designed by chefs to help you explore the best in cuisine that the different regions of Thailand have to offer. All the four regions have their set of vegetarian and non-vegetarian soups, starters, salads, main course, rice or noodles and desserts. So, there is a lot to choose from.

From Isan, grilled mushroom skewers or wok fried tofu are good choices for vegetarians. Grilled fish fillet in banana leaf is a good option for non-vegetarian from this region. Alternatively, they can try prawn and lemon grass skewers from the Lanna region. From the central region, the best is the shrimp cake served with a chilli dip. In the main course, sour yellow chicken curry or grilled duck breast with pineapple and tamarind sauce are good choices.

Another good main course options for veggies is the tofu and long beans in roasted red curry paste. From the south region, known for its seafood preparations you can have stir fried crabs onion, mushroom and lime sauce.

In the dessert section, the all time favourite sticky rice with fresh mango is not to be missed. If you want to try something new, then rice dumplings stuffed with jaggery and coconut is sure to surprise you.
